

ALLIES THREATEN TO DRIVE TURKS OUT OF EUROPE

LONDON, July 17.—(By the Associated Press).—A threat to drive the Turk from Europe, "once and for all," is contained in the allied reply to the Turkish peace treaty, made public here today. Such action might follow Turkey's refusal to sign the treaty or her failure to give it effect, the reply states. The time limit for Turkey to make known her decision, expires at midnight, July 17.

The allies have arranged to deliver this reply, which takes the form of an ultimatum, to the Turkish peace delegation in Paris this afternoon. The Turks are informed that they must signify their willingness to sign the peace treaty within ten days, failing which "the allies powers will take such action as they may consider necessary in the circumstances."

The allies made some minor modifications in the treaty after the Turks had presented their protests, but it is understood that these modifications do not materially affect the original draft.

The allied reply is couched in the bluntest language, and says:

"If the Turkish government refuses to sign the peace, still more, if it finds itself unable to re-establish its authority in Anatolia or to give effect to the treaty, the allies in accordance with the terms of the treaty may be driven to reconsider this arrangement by ejecting the Turks from Europe once and for all."

RESOLUTE LEADING SHAMROCK IN SECOND RACE

SHAMROCK TRAILS AT THE START

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 17.—At 3:02 this afternoon Resolute was nearly a mile ahead of the Shamrock.

Resolute at 3:35 went about on the starboard tack as she approached the first mark. From shore she appeared to have about a three-quarter mile lead over the challenger.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 17.—Resolute crossed the starting line ahead of Shamrock IV today in the second international cup race. The starting signal was blown at 1:45 p. m.

The two sloops stood away to sea on the starboard tack, both skippers holding their charges in the eye of the wind. Resolute seemed from the shore to work better than the challenger, and if anything seemed to fool faster. There was not enough air, however, to put them down on their true, racing lines.

The course designated by the committee would take the yachts a lead to windward of 10 miles, a broad reach of ten miles to be second marked and a close reach home to the finish. At 1:15 the wind was picking up a little but at 1:25 it was not very strong.

Crossing the line both skippers stood away on a starboard tack holding as close to the wind as possible. Resolute, which crossed first in dashing style, seemed to work better in weather than the challenger. Shamrock followed under her lee, starting within the sequence of the defender.

Captain Adams drove the defender high into the wind so that her jib top sail fluttered. Then he laid her off a bit and she glided along in surprising fashion. The challenger held her own well in foiling. She seemed to fill a little to leeward all the time and no strong wind to heel the yachts.

Both stood up like church steeles. Ten minutes after the start the yachts were southwest of Long Beach, heading back by south parallel and the Long Island shore.

A new touch was given to the international cup races, when a great naval parade, with a fleet of smaller aircraft followed the racing sloops.

At 2:05 p. m. a wireless message sent from the official press boat stated both yachts were still holding the starboard tack with Resolute to the windward and Shamrock a trifle ahead, but unable to reach the defender's bow.

The two sloops were still holding on the starboard tack at 2:25 when they had covered a distance of nearly three miles from the light ship.

Resolute at this time was leading by a margin of a mile, being to wind-

The Race Course As Viewed From Plane

FROM A SEAPLANE OVER RACING COURSE, July 17.—(By the Associated Press).—New York's harbor put on its best holiday suit of sunshine and favorable weather early today and waited for the signal which was to start the second event of the classic contest for international supremacy between the British challenger, Shamrock IV and Resolute, the American cup defender.

Across the vast stage already set with sharp drawn lines dividing land, sky and sea officious little craft dodged in and out among their neighbors, steamers and flag boats, making ready to assist or watch the spectacle.

From Ambrose channel light vessel, a mere miniature in the zone, although east as a principal in the play, rose the center of the great fan-shaped stage.

To the north in the front tier lay Coney Island and Rockaway Beach. Beyond Long Island stretched its fingers into the Atlantic.

Westward the highland coast of New Jersey was already being dotted with trains, motor cars and groups of spectators, early comers who sought the richest vantage of vantage overlooking the wide, marine amphitheatre.

In the distance, veiling on tip-toe from its standing room in the apex of the triangle, heads disappearing in the smoky, overhanging mist, loomed the angular multitude of buildings called New York City.

Early vessels of every sort began to congregate, keeping a respectful distance from the light vessel out of deference to a dusky chorus of destroyers doing duty as traffic police. The majority of these sight-seers, brilliant with new white paint, were private or club yachts and steamers with a show of ostentation from the mouth of the Hudson.

From the decks of one the sun's rays flashed on the instruments of a brass band.

WILL REORGANIZE NATIONAL GUARD ALLIES TO AID GERMANY IN FLOATING HER LOANS

SPRINGFIELD, July 17.—Allied governments will take appropriate measures to assist Germany in floating loans intended to meet her internal requirements and to assist her in the prompt discharge of her debt to the allies, according to the agreement signed here today by representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and Portugal, dealing problems relative to reparations. The distribution of indemnities received from Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria was also provided for in the agreement.

Belgium is given priority in the payment of $2,500,000,000 gold francs, and the agreement enumerates the securities for such priority. The allies also arranged for a method of valuing the ships surrendered by Germany and her allies under the various treaties, as well as the allocation of these vessels. Surrendered warships, docks and other war materials were also dealt with by the entente nations delegates.

One of the articles of the agreement fixing the cost of the occupation armies on a uniform basis was not concluded, it being desired to discuss this matter with the United States before final adjustment of the problem.

Huge Auto Theft Plot Is Bared

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Whole-sale thefts of automobiles in which were involved Washington dealers and chauffeurs and a gang of New York thieves has been brought to light, according to the police, by the Washington authorities working in cooperation with New York detectives here insurance interests. Within the last few days Washington detectives have seized bills of sale, which they said show that at least 1500 automobiles reported in New York as stolen.

Local police also were authorized for the statement that Morris Ellis, general dealer for the Lincoln Auto Exchange in Newark, N. J., had been arrested and was being held under bond pending an investigation into his alleged connection with the traffic.

Ellis has been sent to Washington dealers recently. Last night 27 of these alleged stolen cars had been rounded up and the police stated they had just begun work.

CINCINNATI, July 17.—Salaries of $100 to $500 approved by Attorney General Palmer for assistants of chief States District Attorney James R. Clark.

Bela Kun And Other Communists Escape

BERLIN, July 17.—Bela Kun, former Hungarian Communist dictator, and a number of other Communists who were being transported from Vienna to Russia by way of Germany escaped from the train on the way to Germany near Mierburg, a frontier station on the Silesian-Czech-Slovak border, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Berliner Zeitung today.

Wilson's Influence Not Exercised In Opposition To Cox

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright by Times Publishing Co.)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The White House administration, assuming thereby the influence of the White House, was not exercised in opposition to the nomination of Governor Cox but on the contrary an incident occurred which had a great deal to do with the landslide in the final moments of the San Francisco convention.

On returning to Washington, the writer has verified a story which went the rounds of the state delegations at San Francisco in the last moments of the balloting and which influenced some who had been holding out for McAdoo to join the bandwagon for Cox. As reported on the floor of the convention the story was not exactly accurate but as happens in such moments of excitement, a word of mouth story gets a variety of versions by the time it is reported by managers, workers and over enthusiastic partisans.

The story which was circulated on the floor of the convention was that Senator Charles Glass had received a telegram from the White House saying Cox was not unacceptable to the president but that the Virginian Senator refused to give out the telegram because of the adverse effect it might have on McAdoo's chances for the nomination.

Now the facts are these: Senator Glass did receive a telegram from Secretary Tamm sent at the express direction of President Wilson. It happened this way: The New

This is the first time the Porter prize has been won by a woman.

Tour's State With 20 Nieces And Nephews

CINCINNATI, O., July 17.—John A. Manger, Atlanta, Ga., cotton planter, arrived in Cincinnati yesterday, accompanied by 20 of his young nieces and nephews, with whom he has been touring the western states by automobile. When Mr. Manger arrived with his 20 companions, ranging in age from 5 to 15 years, he explained that each year he takes his young kindred on a trip to a different part of the United States or Canada.

"I am a strong advocate of seeing America first, and am proving it by giving my little relatives a trip each year," said Mr. Manger. The party later proceeded to Niagara Falls, where they will return home.

"Liberal Party" Is Launched

CHICAGO, July 17.—Another political movement, the Liberal Party, was launched late yesterday by former members of the committee of forty-eight who bolted from that organization.

Judge Arthur G. West, mayor of York, Neb., and Allen McNulty, keynote speaker at the fortnight convention, led the new party.

The convention was confined to those persons from fifty to sixty in number who signed its call and all other forty-eighters were excluded from the hall.

Senator Burton, leader of the World War Veterans, attempted to make an address, but was invited to leave. He threatened to call another convention.

McNulty announced that the primary object of the gathering was to German reparations. Of the second object, he said, was to nominate Senator Robert La Follette for president and Wm. J. Bryan for vice president. It is probable that no presidential ticket will be named by the Liberals.

Will Divide Indemnities

PARIS, July 17.—Indemnities received by the allies from Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria will be divided into two equal portions, according to a decision received from Spa. The first half will be distributed to the various nations in the same proportions as were divided upon the appointment of German reparations. Of the second half Italy will receive 20 percent and the Robert La Follette for president and Wm. J. Bryan for vice president. It is probable that no presidential ticket will be named by the Liberals.

AMERICANS WIN RIGHT TO CHALLENGE AUSTRALIA

WIMBLEDON, ENGLAND, July 17.—(By the Associated Press).—Americans today won the right to challenge the Australasia for the Davis cup, the international lawn tennis trophy. Johnston and Tilden, the American pair, defeated Burke and Kingstone of Great Britain in the double match giving the Americans three straight matches and a victory in the competition with the British Davis cup team.

The doubles match today went two sets, the Americans winning 6-4; 4-6; 6-2.

Three out of five matches were necessary to win the competition between the British and American teams. In yesterday's play in the singles Johnston defeated Burke and Tilden took the measure of Kingstone. The Americans having won the doubles, deciding the issue, it will not be necessary to play the other two singles matches scheduled.

May Settle Chicago Car Strike

CHICAGO, July 17.—Developments in the street car situation here pointed to possible settlement of the strike in a conference to be held today between Michael Doyle, business agent of the Electrical Workers' Union and officers of the Chicago surface lines. The strike called by the electrical workers has crippled the city's transportation since early Thursday morning.

Billy Butty Times Weather Man

Most of the inland folks in reading accounts of the yacht races can't tell whether the crafts are going forward, backward or sideways when that salt-water parlance is used. About the only thing they're able to figure out is that the race started and that one or the other of the boats won. Here's your weather for tomorrow:

WIND: Partly cloudy tonight; warmer in northern portion. Sunday local thunderstorms.

TEMPERATURE: Local thunder showers probable tonight and Sunday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday, are:

OHIO VALLEY AND TENNESSEE—Local thunder showers early in the week. Generally fair thereafter, except in Tennessee where occasional thunder showers are probable. Reasonable temperatures.

REGION OF THE GREAT LAKES—Generally fair except probably local showers early in the week in the lower lake region. Reasonable temperatures.

The extremes in local temperatures today were: High, 84; low, 68.

YOU NEVER SAW A BETTER COMEDY

Traffic Officer On Job

Speeders and traffic violators in general had better beware as Portsmouth now has a genuine motor cop on the job. Chief Spencer, who was sworn in Friday and assumed his duties at once of enforcing the rules and regulations of the traffic laws, is now on duty at the intersection of R. I. and State streets, where he has been dividing his time as a fireman and chasing traffic offenders.

With the swearing in of the new officer, Chief Spencer issued a warning to traffic violators in a statement in which he declared that a vigorous campaign for a strict enforcement of the traffic laws is now on and that all offenders will be presented in an effort to afford greater protection to the general public against so much fast and careless driving of motor vehicles and eliminate the danger of accidents. Autoists are also cautioned by the chief concerning their tail lights and urged car owners to keep them burning. Many complaints have been received about machines parked on the streets without lights and orders have been issued this practice must stop.

HELD TO GRAND JURY FOR PUTTING KNIFE IN SLIDE

Paul Morris, East Portsmouth young man charged with assault upon John Nelson aged 10 years by putting a knife blade in a slide at Tracy park on July 14 last with intent to maim and disfigure the child, pleaded guilty when arraigned in Municipal court Friday white his companion, Charles Snapp, aged 26, Camp Sherman soldier, pleaded not guilty to a similar charge.

In explanation of his act, Morris stated that he held the knife blade in the slide to have some fun out of Snapp, hoping to induce him to take a slide and slip his trousers but that the girl slid down first and was severely cut on right leg, she receiving a gash 1 1/2 inches long and 2 inches deep. He overheard Snapp from all blame and only the soldier's unsatisfactory answers to questions led the court to hold him in the case.

Judge Small in commenting on the case told Morris his act was the most despicable that had ever come to his attention and that it was unbelievable that any person of his mature years would be guilty of such a brutal offense.

The little victim of the fiendish net, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Nelson, 915 Tenth street, has almost recovered from her injuries.

The prisoners were remanded to jail in default of bond to await the action of the grand jury which will not in all probability be convened until the opening of a new term of court early in September.

Auto Driver Tries To Escape After Accident; Caught At New Boston, Pays For Damages

When Ray Bryan, of Huntington, driving an Overland car, collided with a Chevrolet machine driven by Mrs. Elvora Wood, 922 Eighth street in this city Friday, he speeded up his automobile in an attempt to escape but he was apprehended by New Boston officers after a merry chase and returned here. The accident occurred at Eighth and Brown streets and the Wood machine was badly damaged. Bryan, on being given the alternative of paying the damage or facing prosecution chose the former course as the best way out of the situation and then he was allowed to proceed on his way.

Church Pays Tribute To Work Of John Evans

Portsmouth, O., July 15, 1920. To The Editor of Times: The churchmen as well as the officers and friends of Allen Chapel, A. M. E. church desire to join in one accord in paying tribute to Mr. John Evans, member of said church for his excellent showing he made in the 11 weeks financial drive for money raised at the corner stone laying for the new A. M. E. church on the Sunday of June 27th. Words cannot express our appreciation for the money which he raised, therefore, we desire to give to the public a special mention to him for services so rendered. The slogan set for the corner stone laying was a 11 weeks drive for $100,000. You have raised in Tuesday's edition of the Times, that Allen chapel church went over the top in this drive. From the results of this drive you will also note that brother John Evans raised almost half of that money. He raised $102,000. That event in itself should speak well for him and prove to the community that he still has the ear of the thinking public.

In token of their appreciation and well wishes the friends of Allen Chapel church, presented to Brother John Evans a handsome "Loving Cup" inscribed with gold as a memorial and which he should always treasure with happy reflections as the days and years roll by.

We are satisfied that the Times will join with us in paying tribute to Brother Evans for his noble service in this worthy cause as mentioned above.

We would not close this page without saying: Every man should cherish the noble ambition of making the most of his life. Even in the lives of the most depraved and the most indolent moments drive when the good angel points to golden heights which could be gained if the will were strong. The two ultimates of life are: To win the favor of the former it requires energy, patience and perseverance. It has been said that who would win success in life must make perseverance his best friend, caution his elder brother and hope his guardian.

Brother Evans, always push hard and never waver, to stand still is to lose your ground. Exercise your energies in the achievement of the lightest purpose of which your nature is capable.

When viewing the golden pinnacle of success, and gazing the narrow tortuous paths that lead to them, Brother Evans, no doubt may have become at times disgusted with the ways by which success is attained, no doubt he has found from experience that the road to success is encumbered with many obstacles, and the ascent at times slow, yet at some period during his life, while he was struggling upward, a voice must have pierced his ear saying: Brother Evans, in each year you must toil, and although you lose hold occasionally, remember that a dazzling reward awaits the brave warrior.

Therefore, let us gather in life's path the solid gems of rich experience, pluck the flowers of true friendship and suffering love, understand fully what is expected of you. When you have established a true estimate of yourself do not leave but the firm conviction that you will win, remembering that others have or can do you should be able to do under the same condition. These sayings seem to have always characterized the life of Brother John W. Evans, for he always seemed to be a man having a great heart in his breast, always exhibiting a cool, determined brow, always met the foe boldly and fearlessly, so, for these reasons we are pleased to pay tribute of respect to his career of efforts in helping raise money for the financial drive for money raised at the corner stone laying.

Respectfully submitted, from Building Committee.

Rev. Thos. Green, Thos. Slade, Wm. Gooden, Fred Miller, Chas.

Militia Takes Over Control Of Texas Town

GALVESTON, Texas, July 17.—Galveston Texas "municipal officialdom" today found itself superseded by members of the Texas militia with the carrying into execution by Brigadier General J. P. Walters of orders issued yesterday by Governor W. P. Hobby, that city authorities should be suspended and restrained from interference with enforcement of the state's penal laws.

The governor's orders marked another chapter in the dock workers' strike here, results of which brought about martial law in this city a month ago.

City Attorney, Frank S. Anderson, in a statement, threatened to appeal to the federal courts, "if just one more step" is taken by the militia officers. The city commissioners denied Governor Hobby's charges of alleged neglect of duty.

Plan Big Demonstration In Honor Of Governor Cox

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Friends and supporters of Governor Cox, of Ohio, had arranged for a big demonstration in honor of the Democratic nominee for the presidency upon the arrival here this afternoon for his conference tomorrow morning with President Wilson at the White House. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for the vice presidency, will head the welcoming delegation.

Although Governor Cox had indicated he preferred to go directly to the home of Judge T. T. Anshury, whose guest he will be, those in charge of the arrangements, decided to request that he hold a brief informal reception at the station. While the conference with the president was the only fixed engagement the governor had, Judge Anshury, himself a former Ohio congressman, will keep open house for his guest and plans were made for an almost continuous round of informal conferences, with party leaders, until he leaves tomorrow afternoon for Columbus.

The conference with President Wilson tomorrow in which Mr. Roosevelt will participate, will be held on the south portico of the White House, weather permitting. During his convalescence the president has spent much of his time there.

WARNS LAWLESSNESS MUST STOP IN COAL FIELDS

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., July 17.—Mingo county officers were today notified by Governor John J. Cornell that lawlessness in the Mingo county coal field must cease, and will this end in view a detachment of 50 mounted men of the state police had been ordered into the district where a strike of miners has been in progress for several weeks.

This information was contained in letters received by Judge James Thompson of the circuit court and Sheriff Blankenship, both of whom have been in close touch with the situation since ten men were killed in a fight at Matewan May 19, and a number of miners have been attacked by parties hidden in the woods along the river. The latest fatality in the region occurred near Panther on Wednesday when H. H. Hatfield, a McDowell county deputy sheriff, was shot from ambush.

America Uses 700 Million Matches

Realize the immense labor, capital and material used to produce matches. Thousands of men are employed, millions of dollars invested and vast forests cut down to meet the demand in America of 700 billion matches a year. One plant alone on the Pacific coast covers 240 acres and uses two hundred thousand feet of sugar pine and yellow pine tops in a day. The odds and ends will not do. A constant search is in progress for large forests of perfect trees to meet the future needs.—F. H. Chier in "Stories for Talks to Boys."

Enemies Died Together

A rural postman in Indiana found two animals caught in one trap; one a rabbit, held firmly by a hind leg, and the other a ferret, with both forelegs fixed in the trap. Apparently the rabbit was being pursued by the ferret when both were caught.

Wilson Influence Not Opposed To Governor Cox

York newspaper quoted Senator Glass as having said in San Francisco: "Cox won't do for the administration."

These stories were called to the attention of the president by Secretary Tamm who was promptly authorized to send a message to Senator Glass apprising him that eastern newspapers evidently were committing the president to participation in a contest in which he wished to remain absolutely neutral. The message was sent as a matter of information to Senator Glass but with it went the suggestion from the White House that, of course, these stories must be unfounded for the president was not saying that anybody was unacceptable to him.

Senator Glass promptly wired back that he had been misquoted by newspaper and that in his conversation with reporters he was merely expressing his personal preference and was predicting that Cox would not win. He was reported to have remarked that even if Cox got a majority there was the Clark precedent at Baltimore to prove that he might not win after all.

The White House has an impression that the Virginia Senator tried to turn the president to a position of opposition to Cox's nomination.

From this end Senator Glass on the one hand working for McAdoo and men like Vance McCordick working for Palmer were expressing their own conditions. Both had and still have the confidence of the president but plenty of friends of the president were involved in the fight, as for the stage, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, one of the staunchest friends of the president has ever had in Congress, who not only approved Cox's nomination but worked like a Trojan for him on the floor of the convention.

Secretary Tamm's letter in which the president's attention to the newspaper reports was a consequence of persistent inquiries on the part of newspaper correspondents at the White House who insisted that in the absence of some word from the White House the question "Cox would do for the administration" was open.

The only thing the president's secretary could do was to refer the matter to the president who decided first that the statement be issued which went out on the Sunday after McAdoo was nominated and after which the telegram to Senator Glass referring to influence the idea that Cox was unacceptable.

This series of circumstances and facts clearly up a situation that has given rise to all sorts of speculation outside of Washington where the impression has been formed in many quarters that the president opposed the selection of Cox and preferred either McAdoo or Palmer. The fact that the president even before Cox won out or conceded the victory took pains to refute a report that put in evidence the candidacy of Cox and the side of the anti-administration forces is cited here as sufficient national convention.

Chautauqua Will Open Monday

Chautauqua with its seven days of instructive entertainment is only one day off. It opens Monday, the big brown tent is scheduled to arrive tonight and will be erected immediately on the Union Street School grounds.

Every effort has been made to give the best and best does not hesitate in saying its biggest program is going over this year. The morning lectures, the afternoon concerts, the evening entertainments have all been our grand hit in the towns touched so far this season. Neither old nor young have been overlooked; there's a child's hour each day except the first and this culminates into a pageant on the final evening when the children present the play "Good Fairy Thrift." Then too there Pantheasica and his highly trained pets who appear on the last day. The performances of these intelligent little creatures delight everyone.

In the way of music there appears Dunbar's Royal Dragons, The Great Lakes String Quartet, and the College Singing Girls; in addition to these rare treats do not overlook The Musical Arts Trio or the New York Opera Singers. These companies appear on Tuesday and Thursday respectively; their appearances everywhere has been designated as among the most enjoyable numbers ever heard in Chautauqua.

Buy your tickets now. They are on sale by the likes and at various stores in the heart of the business section. An adult season ticket means over $3.00 worth of entertainment for $2.50.

NEGRO ADMITS STEALING

Charles Williams, negro, pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny when arraigned in Municipal court Saturday and Judge Small sent the accused to the county jail under $500 bond. In default of bond he was transferred to the county jail.

Williams is alleged to be a member of the organized gang of negro thieves who have been operating in this and other nearby cities and the specific offense on which he was held was in connection with the theft of two bolts of cloth valued at $75 from the Schwartz Clothing Company. Williams told the court he entered the Schwartz store, Fourth and Chillicothe street, one day early in July on the pretext of ordering a pair of trousers and walked out unobserved with the cloth, which he said he sold at Bluefield, W. Va. The prisoner is said to have confessed to the theft of considerable merchandise from other stores in this city.

THREATS TO KILL SEQUEL OF RAID ON MOONSHINE STILL

Burns Atkins Jefferson township man arrested for alleged making threats to take the life of Thomas Hickey Madison township man, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Small in Municipal court Saturday and his hearing was set for Monday.

Hickey recently participated in a raid with officers on a moonshine still in Jefferson township which resulted in the arrest of Atkins on a charge of violating the prohibition laws and it is claimed that the alleged threats grew out of enmity engendered by the whiskey raid.

Leading his hearing the defendant was ordered held on $100 bond.

SAILOR ADMITS BIGAMY; COURT HASN'T JURISDICTION

Carl F. Herrick, aged 19 years, arrested on a charge of bigamy by the police Friday night while here on a tour through the navy, was arraigned when brought before Judge Small in municipal court Saturday on the ground that the alleged offense was committed in the state of Maryland and for the reason that the local courts have no jurisdiction.

Young Herrick admitted that the charge was true, saying that he married Rachel Wilkoff, of this city, at Baltimore, Ky., on March 3, 1919, and on the assumption that she had secured a divorce, stated that he was wedded to Miss Alice Foster at Baltimore, Md., on July 6, last. Wife No. 1, said Herrick for a divorce in the local common pleas court last October but the case was never heard there, stated that when he recently received $98 attorney pay from the court, which he said had been received to look it for granted that she had secured a divorce and he had the afternoon.

Herrick declared his intention of seeking a mandamus of his Baltimore marriage at once and with that end in view left this afternoon for that city. He has but one more month to serve of his enlistment in the navy.

W. O. W. To Unveil Monument

Western of the World Friday evening at their weekly meeting discussed plans for the monument unveiling they will hold at Rockstown cemetery, Sunday afternoon, July 25. The monument has been erected to the memory of Ernest Stone who died in the service of his country and who was a member of the lodge. A. J. Bryant has been selected to deliver the talk at the unveiling ceremonies. Raymond Starks was given the secretaryship of the monument unveiling and morning service at the meeting last night and one candidate, Walter Deland was initiated. Roy Meloney was present at last night's meeting.

Woman Kills Rattler

A rattlesnake three feet nine inches long, having eleven rattles and one button, was killed Saturday morning by Mrs. Emily Cremons, aged 59 years, of Walsh, Ky. Ellen and Virgil Cremons, grandchildren of Mrs. Cremons, were on their way to pick blackberries, and encountered the big snake in a wheat field which they were crossing.

Ellen stayed to watch the snake while her brother ran back home for his grandmother. Mrs. Cremons killed the reptile with a hoe.

COURT HOUSE

Judge Thomas in common pleas court Saturday partially heard the divorce suit of James Fitzpatrick against Sarah E. Patrick and then continued the case for further evidence in support of the petition.

They were married in 1915 and separated two years ago at Cincinnati. The accused her of infidelity and named on John Coffman. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Walter L. Dickey.

To Investigate Further
Judge Thomas continued the divorce suit of James Fitzpatrick, Sciotoville man, against Tenna Lee Eldridge for further investigation after hearing evidence furnished by the plaintiff in support of the charge in his petition in common pleas court Saturday.

They were married Nov. 20, 1912, at Vandalia, and he charged her with infidelity with one W. W. Dickey. Judge Ball represents the plaintiff.

Pleads Not Guilty To Indictment
Delbert Campbell, aged 21 years, who was sent to the grand jury on a charge of non-support of his three children from municipal court Friday, pleaded not guilty to an indictment containing a similar charge, which was returned before Judge Thomas in common pleas court Saturday.

Campbell declared in court that he lived with his wife and children at Dayton and supported them properly during the period of one year, September, 1918 to Sept. 15, 1919, covered by the indictment, but admitted that he had failed to support the children since last February when his wife died. The children have since been cared for by their grandfather, J. M. Buckler, 2232 Twelfth street.

Wife Seeks Divorce
A divorce and alimony with custody of their two children to be sought by Lavina Roberts in an action instituted in common pleas court Saturday against Carey Roberts. They were married Feb. 11, 1905. The suit was filed through Attorneys Hale & Hale. The plaintiff secured a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from disposing of his property pending the hearing of the case on its merits.

AUTO DRIVEN INTO POLE THAT HAD FALLEN DOWN ACROSS HILL TOP STREET

A Humphreys touring car owned and driven by E. N. Brady was slightly damaged about eight o'clock Friday night when it hit a street railway car and light company's pole which had fallen across the street at Park avenue and Grant street. The pole which lay across the street, right in front of the car, was held up by the wires. The street light was smashed.

Mr. Brady was running west on Grant and as there was no light at the corner and his headlights were dimmed he did not see the pole at all. A crowd on the sidewalk yelled at him. A headlight was broken and the top of the hood was dented.

The Hilltop car was dented a short time while Street Railway company employees repaired the damage.

RED MEN INSTALLED

Carl Odell was installed as Sachem, John Stephens as Senior Sachem, and Lon Tinsley as trustee at the meeting of the Red Men held in their hall, Second and Court streets, Friday evening.

The elaborate installation ceremonies were conducted by John A. Bickler, Deputy Great Sachem of the Red Men.

BREAD IN THE WILDERNESS

At the 10:30 service tomorrow the pastor will preach a sermon of more than ordinary interest on "Bread in the Wilderness." He will relate the miracle of the "Feeding of the Four Thousand" to conditions of life in the world today. The usual 7 o'clock service will be held. These evening addresses are decorative in character and have proved a comfort to many who have heard them. There will be the customary organ recital at the close of evening. You are most cordially invited to attend these services. You will find the church two blocks west of Chillicothe street at the corner of Fourth and Court streets.

REV. ALBERT MARTING RESIGNS TO GO WITH BALDWIN-WALLACE COLLEGE

Rev. Albert I. Marting, pastor of Franklin Avenue Methodist church, resigned at a meeting of the quarterly conference of his church Friday evening, to become the field secretary of Baldwin-Wallace college, Berea, six miles from the city limits of Cleveland, Ohio. His particular work will be the collection of students for the school, especially of those who desire to prepare for special service in connection with the Confessors program of the church. He will also collect the interest and financial aid of those who wish to assist the college in its mission. Most of his time will be spent in the churches of Ohio and adjacent states, working through the pastors. The Home Mission board of the Methodist church recognizes this role as peculiarly adapted for training young people for solving the city problems that confront the church. Rev. Mr. Marting expects to take up his work there on September 1, having refused to go sooner in order to give his church an opportunity to secure his successor. Rev. Mr. Marting had no intention of accepting the new position at first, but responded to the appeal of a number of ministers and others interested in the college at Berea.

District Superintendent Rev. John Mayer of Cleveland, who was present at the meeting last night, stated that he reluctantly released Rev. Marting from his district, but was willing to do so, as he felt the need of his assistance for the school at Berea, especially in view of the fact that the church must look to such schools for the training of young people to carry on its work.

The resignation was accepted last night with regret, and a committee was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions of appreciation of the work of Rev. Marting here. A committee, consisting of F. L. Marting, J.

W. Wendolken and J. W. Grier, was also appointed to secure a new pastor. They will have a good opportunity to size up the men available at the annual conference session of the church to be held here September 8.

Rev. Marting is recognized as one of the leading pastors of the city, and has a wide circle of friends outside of his congregation. He has fine ability for organization as well as an able speaker, and has always been in complete harmony with his congregation. He came here September 1, 1913, and took charge of the Fourth street Methodist church, then located at Fourth and Washington, which had a membership of 200, with a Sunday school of about the same. The new building on Franklin avenue was built under his pastorate and when the congregation moved there in 1917 the name of the church was changed to The Franklin Avenue Methodist church. It now has a membership of 400 and a Sunday school of more than 500.

During the past year Rev. Marting held an exceptionally successful revival in his church, receiving 85 new members at the close, making a total of more than 100 during the year.

The church also installed a hand-some new pipe organ last year, the money being received from voluntary subscriptions, there being no solicitation.

Rev. Marting will leave Portsmouth with the best wishes of a host of friends, and church people feel that they suffered a distinct loss in his leaving. He is well qualified for his new work, and will undoubtedly make a great success of it.

Woman And Child Shot While Out Auto Riding

CINCINNATI, O., July 17.—Mrs. Frank Morrison of Covington, Ky., and her eight year old daughter were shot, the child seriously, last night when a bullet pierced the rear curtain of the automobile in which they were riding. The bullet struck the child in the right cheek, passed through her nose and lodged in her mother's shoulder. The automobile which was driven by Frank Morrison, the husband, and father, had run over a dog and the police believe the shot was fired in revenge. Two men were arrested on the charge of shooting to kill, but they denied all knowledge of the shooting.

Pastor Spring To Preach

Pastor W. H. Spring of 1725 Third avenue will speak Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Men's school house on Long Run, near Mifflin. "On the Dead Communicate With the Living" will be the subject for the evening and will be given under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association. This will make Pastor Spring's third visit to Long Run in the past year, and a large crowd is expected, as on previous occasions a number of people were unable to gain admittance on account of lack of room.

An English clergyman, says the London Telegraph, was the first to call the attention of the musical public to the fact that bells are rarely in tune, and that the fault can be remedied if a church bell was originally in tune with itself. According to his theory, a bell must have at least five tones at correct intervals to form a perfect musical chord. At first the work of tuning was done with a hammer, a chisel and a file, and a magnificent tenor bell in Norfolk, England, was thus reduced three-quarters of an inch in diameter; but modern bell foundries employ a machine with a revolving cutter that shapes the metal near the crown of the bell until the tuner, aided by a tuning fork, has hit the right pitch.

The Graveyard Blues. One cold morning in midwinter a negro employed in a southern lumber mill came to work wearing a pair of tennis shoes. He offered no explanation for his strange footwear—perhaps he hadn't any. The white, thin shoes did not fail to attract the attention of his fellow workers, however. One of them greeted him with this remark: "Nigrah, what's your shoes made of? You got dead tennis shoes on, cold as ice? Ain't you got no judgment? Better go on home and get something to go 'round the graveyard dem things to read!"

A Good Reason. The old man was applying at the eye hospital for some spectacles, and the doctor was making a test of his eyes. A card was fixed on the wall a little distance away from where the old man was sitting and the doctor asked him: "Can you read that, my man?" "No," said the old man. "I can't." The doctor told him to go nearer. "Well, can you read it now?" Again the old man replied: "No, sir." The doctor angrily pulled him forward till his nose almost touched the placard. "Well, can you read it now?" "No, sir," said the old man sadly, shaking his head. "You see, sir, I never learnt to read!"

COUPLE FINED Jesse Nos. 44, and Mayme Kerr, 35, the couple arrested at the Hotel Portsmouth early Friday morning by the police on statutory charges, pleaded guilty when arraigned in Municipal court this afternoon and Judge Smith fined Nos. 25 and costs and the woman $5 and costs.

Arrested On Assault Charge Kid Smith, 33, and Mary Bell, 50, both colored, were the names given by a couple arrested late Friday night at the home of the woman near Thirtieth and Railroad streets and lodged in the city jail by the police on statutory charges.

The woman later was released on posting a cash bond for her appearance in Municipal court, but having no family Smith was held.

FALLS DOWN STAIRS Mrs. William Lechner, 35, fell down the stairway of her home, 1921 Eighth street, Thursday morning, striking her head against the balustrade, wrenching a cord in her neck. She was also hurt about the back and shoulders.

Mrs. Lechner had started down the stairs from her bedroom, and after taking one or two steps, caught her foot in the hem of her skirt, throwing her violently forward. She fell the entire length of the stairs. Her injuries demanded the attention of a physician, who was hurriedly called. She was greatly improved Saturday, but is still suffering from the painful injuries.

LIMESTONE AND FERTILIZER MEETINGS A series of meetings will be held in the county next week by County Farm Agent Galin, assisted by E. E. Hines, soil specialist, Ohio State University, the meetings to be of vital interest to every farmer.

The subjects to be discussed are: Limestone, its value from an agricultural standpoint, present outlook and prices for fall delivery; fertilizer, the kinds that return most for a dollar invested.

The meetings are being arranged for by local Farm Bureau men in the following communities:

Selden, Monday, July 19th, O. Y. Dadds, chairman.
South Webster, Tuesday, July 20th, J. H. Carol, chairman.
Leatherswood School (Nile Top), Wednesday, July 21st, Al Turner, chairman.

Utica, Thursday, July 22nd, J. M. Jones, chairman.
Hatchville, Friday, July 23rd, S. V. Selter, chairman.

All meetings begin promptly at 8 p. m. and time.

Negroes Held; Suspected Of Belonging To Gang Will Sellards and Willie Jefferson, negroes, taken into custody by local officers Thursday are being held at the county jail on suspicion of belonging to the organized gang of colored thieves uncovered in this city recently with the arrest of Henry Hunter and Jesse Ford, negroes, in connection with the Wilhelm jewelry robbery.

The officers are confident the two suspects were connected with the gang and an effort is being made to unearth sufficient evidence against them to warrant the filing of charges.

Charles Williams, another member of the gang who has been held at the city jail since early in the week will probably be arraigned in Municipal court today on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the theft of merchandise from a local store.

Harding To Make Effort To Gain Farmer And Labor Vote

MILWAUKEE, O., July 17.—Senator Harding kept hard at work today on his speech accepting the Republican nomination for president. Although the address is not to be delivered until next Thursday at the formal notification ceremonies here, he kept his callers list at a minimum and devoted himself all of his time to the manuscript in the hope of completing it by tomorrow night.

At an interpretation of the Chicago platform, the acceptance speech is expected to be the real keynote of the Republican campaign. Careful care is being taken to make certain that it touches comprehensively on all of the important issues and lays a broad basis for the party's fight for popular support.

In his declaration Thursday regarding the new farmer-labor party, some of the senator's friends saw an indication that the Republican attitude toward the farmer and the laborer might come in for particular attention in the notification day speech.

The candidate himself has revealed none of his intentions regarding the speech, but he expressed confidence yesterday that the Republican platform would be found progressive enough to command the support of both the farming and laboring classes.

Committee Forgot To Name Some Helpers Of The Church

"Editor Times: We, the Building Committee of the Allen Chapel A. M. E. church wish to make a correction of the article which you published in Tuesday evening's edition of your paper.

The names of some of the members and friends of this church were by an oversight omitted in Tuesday's publication and in view of this fact we wish to make the correction and publish their names, because they played an instrumental part in helping to raise financial funds for the cornerstone rally for Allen Chapel's new edifice at the corner of Twelfth and Wallace streets. The following are the persons, viz: Mr. William Cornish $50; Mrs. Nettie Redman $15; Mr. Albert Ferguson $30; Mr. Frank Saunders $5; Mr. E. W. Woods $5; Mr. Arthur Hamilton $25; Mr. C. S. Goodrich $2; Trinity Lodge, No. 9, F. and A. M. $15.64.

Respectfully Submitted, Rev. Green, John Evans, Thos. Slade, Wm. Gooden, Fred Milnor, Clerk, Building Committee.

Pennsylvania Railroad Man Is Robbed At Ironton

IRONTON, O., July 17.—Alexander Vanderpool, a sand Argonaut for the Pennsylvania lines at Pittsburgh and a former seafarer, complained to the police last night that three men made his acquaintance at the N. & W. depot last night as he was waiting for No. 3, and he was robbed of his money and ran with the men to get his money and ran with them. He and Roy Ferguson, who took him up about Chestnut street and Campbell avenue, where he says one of the men went to a shanty boat and got a bottle of beer. They then entered him into a crap game under the hood of a lumber yard and after he had refused to lose more than five dollars, which they agreed to pay back to the party.

Use Cuticura To Keep Children's Skins Healthy

Children would only use Cuticura Soap and Ointment for everyday use and every purpose. How much suffering might be avoided by preventing little skin troubles from becoming serious. Cuticura is also excellent for little cuts. It is a thoroughly medicated and effective ointment.

N. & W. Victors Over Arch Preservers In Well Staged 4 to 3 Battle

Many Big League Scouts At Millbrook Sunday

Some Great Playing By Middle Gardener Devoss, Game Was Real Article

PENNY ANTE

An Egg Drops In

Watch the Portsmouth and Ashland, N.H., Elks perk up when they learn that not less than seven big league scouts will be in Millbrook Park tomorrow, when the double header arranged is staged before the vast assembly of fans. Some of the Portsmouth Elks are quite certain the scouts are coming to look them over, and the players on the Ashland team are just as sure the scouts are coming for them. After the Elks game is staged, beginning promptly at 1:30, the players on these two teams will probably make a survey of the grand stands in the hope they can force an opinion out of the scouts.

However, the Elks are given the quiet tip that the scouts are coming to watch the players in the Wiedemann-All Star teams, which game will be called at the conclusion of the Elks contest. There are at least two players on the local team that many believe are due for a trial higher up, while the Wiedemann club is carrying several men whose work has gained while attention throughout the baseball world. According to word received on Saturday morning by Owen Gallahan, the following scouts will be in the stands: Glen McCann, of the Cincinnati Reds; Billy Doyle, of the Detroit Tigers; Dan Brouthers, of New York; Art Hoffman, of Chicago Cubs; Larry Sullivan, of Brooklyn; and Mickle Flinn, of the Southern League.

Dabe Bryant, who covers the Elks back for the Wiedemann club, right now holds a telegram from Billy Doyle telling him not to consider any offer until he arrives in town Sunday. Bryant is now debarking with Branch Rickey's St. Louis aggregation, Bryant was formerly a star hurler but his arm wear back on him this spring.

and he finally decided to try his luck at the third station. His playing has been a revelation to the fans where the Wiedemanns have performed this season. He has had and is the proud possessor of one good arm.

The Wiedemann club will lose the services of Lou Ziegler, their star short stop next week. He was signed up several days ago by the Cincinnati Reds to be used as utility infielder, and just as soon as the Reds are able to make a deal for Eddie Sicking, he will be seen in the uniform of a Red performing as an understudy to Larry Kopf. Ziegler is one of the most promising youngsters turned out in Cincinnati in years, and besides being a good ball tosser he is one of the fast runners in the athletic field. He holds several medals for short distance running and also once or twice has topped honors in long distance throwing contests at League Park.

and had the Arch Preservers not lost their punch entirely after a most successful season there is no question but Mr. Wells would have had a different report to make to his newly acquired friends at Kingston. In this frame Stewart, first up, beat out a hit to short, Spencer walked and when Huberts threw went a second Stewart legged it for third. With men on first and third, and some out Selby socked skyward. But right here is where Wells asserted his mastery. On Collis rap to third, Stewart ran head long into the electric chair at home. Monk, the fifth batter for Bibb, came and while he swings hard, failed to connect and sat down. It was up to whether the diminutive catcher, Keyser attended to his fly.

The Hallorons broke the tie in the opening inning. Hicks beat out a hit in front of the plate and stole second. Smith rolled to the box. Wells walked. Hicks was nailed at the plate on Keyser's roller to third. Manager Timmes nearly dehorned Spencer with a single scoring Wells. Huberts rolled to short. They made one in the third. Wells led off with what looked to be a sure triple, but DeVoss ran back. As the right of way and pulled the ball down. It was one of the best catches of the year. Mr. DeVoss was robbed of a $10.00 gold piece as a reward from W. W. Baver, real estate dealer, by a catch on the part of Frank Keyser, also made a phenomenal play when he nailed Spencer in drive in the fifth stanza. After Wells had been extinguished by DeVoss, Keyser singled only to be forced by Timmes. Lauplaza pulled a single to right and this was followed by Huberts base drive to right, scoring his manager, Wells rolled to short.

In the fourth Spencer singled thru third. He went to second on Hicks out and registered on Smiths double to right. Manager Timmes led off in the fifth with a double jointed biff to left. He went to third on Vaughters out and completed the journey when Earl Reinhard failed to handle Huberts roller.

The Arch Preservers scored two in the second. Kearns drove wickedly thru short. DeVoss popped to third and Hubert slid to left. Spencer cracked one to deep right and went to third, scoring Kearns. Collis singled past third, Spencer scoring, Bibbman fanned.

In the fifth Collis singled and went to second on Bibbman's sacrifice. Weber was the lad with the punch, his drive over Wells had been good for a double, scoring Collis. Weber strayed off second and Wells nailed him with a perfect Chuck to Smith.

Athletics Buy Players

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 17.—The Philadelphia-American League Club today signed Frank Walker, formerly with the Detroit Americans. Walker is an outfielder and was sold to the Athletics by the Rocky Mount Club of the North Carolina League. The price paid was $3,000. A player whose name was not made known in the deal to Rocky Mount in the deal. Timb Harrison, a pitcher, is mentioned as the player in question. The Athletics have also purchased Pitcher Johnson of the Worcester (Mass.) club.

Ashland Elks Coming Sunday

The Ashland Elks who play ball here Sunday will use the following lineup: Schmauck, c; Craig, p; Messersmith, ss; Zappin, 1st; Steele, 2nd; Morris, 3rd; Lepsig, Carrell and Scott outfielders.

Charles Glockner has been in charge of the work of making automobiles to meet the Ashland delegation. All members who are to use their machines in the city are requested to meet with Mr. Glockner at the Elk Parlors at nine o'clock and time Sunday morning.

Moran Signs

The news Friday that Manager Fred Moran would again pilot the Cincinnati champions during the seasons of 1921 and 1922 is pleasing to the fans. The manager and the officials of the club were not long in coming to terms and Moran affixed his flowing signature to a contract in terms that were most satisfactory to him. Thus was spiced any anxieties hopes that the New York club might have had to obtain the services of Moran as successor of McElwain.

Robbins Have A Fine Trip

The Brooklyn Club has been having a wonderful trip through the West to date. They won four out of five in St. Louis and five out of six in Chicago, and they have now a comfortable lead in the pennant race. The Reds will have to win the next four games here to pass them, and that is quite a feat, with the pitching very uncertain.

MUCH INTEREST IN PRESENT SERIES

The Brooklyn series in Cincinnati is attracting so much attention that arrangements are being made to take care of the banner crowd of the season on Sunday. Extra field chairs are to be placed in front of the grandstand for this game, so great is the demand for tickets. No doubt a large number of local Red boosters will make the trip to the Queen City Sunday to witness the struggle for first place honors.

MAY BREAK OLYM PIC ENTRY RECORD

ANTWERP, July 17.—Entries pouring in on the Olympic committee, although not as yet fully classified, indicate that Stockholm total of 3,000 contestants may be exceeded despite the absence of Germany and Austria from this year's games.

Although France, with 350 entries, has the largest number for any single country, entries received from Australia and South Africa show the British Empire probably will have the largest representation. The latter is sending 48 entrants, including those who have registered for the long distance triathlon races, in which sport South Africa made a big showing at Stockholm.

Your Australian and four New Zealand contestants are en route to this city. Italy, whose athletes have been trained by Matt Adams, of New York, has asked for accommodation for 220 men.

Arrangements were made yesterday by the Olympic reception committee to meet each arriving group of athletes with banners, and if possible to escort them to their quarters in this city.

Big Year For A. A. Clubs

CHICAGO, July 17.—With the season half finished, clubs of the American Association have played to 500,000 persons. President Hickey announced today, as compared with a total attendance of 1,000,000 the entire 1919 season.

Tigers Buy Twirler

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 17.—Norman Glaser, a right-handed pitcher, has been purchased by the Detroit American League club from Rocky Mount (N. C.), of the Virginia State League. It was learned here today, Glaser was one of the leading and hot pitchers here last year. He will report to Detroit about August 15.

Americans Beat British

WIMBLEDON, ENGLAND, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—William M. Johnston, of California, won the first match for the American Davis cup team today in its contest with the British team for the right to challenge Australia for the trophy. He defeated J. C. Parke, in five sets 6-1, 6-4, 2-6, 3-6, 6-2.

Reds Release College Pitcher

WIMBLEDON, July 16.—(By the Associated Press)—William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, defeated A. R. F. Kingsgate of the British team in the second singles match in the Davis cup tennis play here today. The score was 4-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

To Manage Norfolk Team

Jimmy Hininger, well known catcher of several minor leagues, who has been doing the main back stop of the Wiedemann club, will not be seen with that aggregation when they look up with Gables All Stars at Millbrook Park Sunday. He has just signed a contract to manage the Norfolk, Va., club of the Virginia League and took hold of the club last week. The Wiedemanns just finished a trip thru that section of the country and they thought so much of his work that they made a deal for him. This is the fifth Wiedemann player to go out this season which speaks well of the makeup of the visiting aggregation.

Reds Release College Pitcher

Pitcher Richard, Red recruit twirler, and Cornell College boy, did not go to Shreveport as announced, but left for New Haven, Conn. He is far too green for the main line, but may show. His league form after more experience. College coaches often become too enthusiastic in recommending players who may look very good when exposed to the weak hitters on the variety teams, but have nothing at all with which to fool the big league batters.

Ludrus Has Lame Back

It was reported Friday that Fred Ludrus, the former Philly first baseman, would not join the Reds immediately because of a lame back and a disposition to go into business for himself at his home in Wisconsin. Further word today for him to join the Reds at once were sent to Ludrus Friday.

Brooklyn Overcame Four Run Lead And Beat Reds

CINCINNATI, O., July 17.—Brooklyn overcame a four-run lead and won the last game of the series with Cincinnati Friday 6 to 4. Both teams played well, but the hitting of Brooklyn was the more opportune. Score:

B. B. Promoter Held

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 17.—Accused of attempting to lure players from the Charlotte South Atlantic League Baseball Club, B. B. Meekins, promoter of an independent baseball team at Chesterfield, S. C., "in the million dollar league," was arrested here today at the instance of the Charlotte Club management. The specific charges made against Meekins was solicitation of labor without a license in violation of a city ordinance.

Theis Don't Like South

Pitcher Theis, of Georgetown, who was recommended by Siliu Saller, refused to go to Shreveport when sold to that club, as he does not care for the southern climate, so far as he has experienced it. He may land with a Three-Eye League Club.

DISCREDITING THEIR OWN

WE are much entertained by an editorial in a current issue of the Country Gentleman, showing that all live publications have about the same existence.

The Country Gentleman is the oldest and the best agricultural weekly in the country. It is conducted on an unusually high plane, employing the staff of experts in various lines of farming, without superiors in the country. Its contents are exceedingly varied, the illustrations are high class and in every respect the paper is admirable and entertaining, not only to those in whose interests it is published, but to acquire breadth of information.

But the publication has many subscribers, who are not pleased with it and many class contemporaries, who are sorely dissatisfied with it. Some complain because it is for sale on trains and city news stands and therefore it is read by town people, others find fault with it because its stores by the best authors for grown-ups and children and some are sure it is unfit for farmers because it has such fine pictures and is printed on excellent paper.

Now these are all queer objections, every one being a protest against a superior quality, but they run true to the quirks and oddities of human nature, and are the discouragements, to an extent, the stumbling block, that every paper meets in its efforts to produce the best possible. They but illustrate the crooked conceptions some natures have of their own fortunes and the character of the pursuit in which they are engaged.

Farming is the great basic industry of the country, the foundation upon the breadth of which every other industry rests its prosperity. Not only is it thus imposing, essential, but it is dignified and honorable in character. As much industry and brains are required to carry it on to the great success as any other business demands. There are thousands of as fine farm homes, as handsomely and comfortably appointed, with as cultured occupants, as are to be found in the cities. There is no reason whatever to complain of a class journal that aims to put the best foot of farming forward and to show the royal road which all in the occupation may travel, if they will. To vex it and denounce it shows but the narrowness and crudeness that ignorant people just at as being the natural condition of rural life.

Easiest thing in the world to get your name in the papers nowadays. All you have to do is to write one of the candidates telling him you have always voted the opposition, but believing in America, liberty and the freedom of the nation you are going to support him. Your letter will be promptly turned over to the eager reporters and properly exploited.

The 48ers, "the plutocratic philanthropists," have exhibited at Chicago the fallacy of trying to mix oil and water. They sought to combine the silk shirt and the kid gloves with the overalls of labor in its most violent form, together with every other ism and got cruelly chewed up in the operation.

The Peerless brought of the choicest of her exceedingly limited stock of lovely days and spread it out for the edification of her guests and as testimonial to a memorable event for her future.

It can't be said the denizens of the Peerless don't know a good thing when they see it, neither are they loath to take advantage of it when it is free. The crowd on the dam excursion was as large as it was welcome.

Over $500,000,000 in bonds were sold on the New York market, Wednesday. Not an excessive number, according as is the wont, but still sufficient to show why they are not yet at par. The tendency for the day was slightly upward.

The state treasury has $83,000,000 on hand. Unhappily it is nearly all held in special funds and there is no more than enough to provide against running expenses.

Blithely the plutocratic philanthropists of the 48ers went to Chicago to organize one party out of the many discordant elements assembled there. Again they found themselves rejected as leaders. The labor radicals beat them to it and took away most of their following besides. So back home they go a sadder, but sadder to no hope, a wiser lot.

Bob LaFollette is perfectly willing to run for president, but he can't find any group with courage enough to nominate him.

The Portsmouth steel mills are going to spend a million dollars in the construction of river terminals. That's fine. It will help the Ohio come into her own.

The total assessment valuation in the state will show an increase of half a billion for the year. Does that mean a decrease in the tax rate? No, foolish one, it means an increase. In taxation, as illustrated in Ohio, the more you've got the more you've got to pay in both amount and rate, every year and thence on eternally.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

LINDSEY ON THE JOB
 My first assignment was to go down and get some sketches of the crowds bathing at Coney Island. May I say that no more pleasant job could have been selected for me on a mid-July day.

Filled with delight I blew out of Dean's office and kissed me to the very best of Jack and I had had such a jolly time on a few days before—and yet was it not a century before!

Just for luck I sketched some of the funny couples on the boat going down. It gave me something to do, and helped to while away the time.

Once arrived at the Island, I wandered about wondering just which people to sketch for they were all so interesting and amusing.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt (dwarfs from some side show or other) enjoying themselves by being whirled about in the old tubs over the bounding waves and Jack and I had so hilariously sampled. They looked so tiny and were so jolly as they were tossed this way and that, and the crowd enjoyed it so.

Quick as a wink I caught them at their funniest, to my great joy, and then strolled on to see what else there was to see.

I felt like an old hand at the game, and yet very new. It was wonderful to be really, truly, practically about, unchaperoned, untroubled, and, above all, unimportant. There is no more inspiring feeling than that which comes from being able to be oneself, totally. Only artists and dreamers get this, I fear. To be able to lose one's identity—Nora de Chast. What bliss!

I roamed, thought, for two hours, and by that time had a fair selection of peppy cartoons for Mr. Dean to pick and choose from. And was I tired! Not so as you could notice it.

I made a great discovery today—one does not get tired from anything so quickly as from oneself. Doing the work that one loves does not tire one, not really. While being hired varieties one in mind, body and estate.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

GEN. JOSE GOMEZ

Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez, who has been nominated by the Cuban National Liberty party as its candidate for the presidency, has had an exciting career in a land where action is the order of the day. As a young man he served throughout the "Ten Years' war," emerging from that conflict a colonel as a reward for bravery and ability on the battle field. He was a brigadier general when the fighting with Spain was resumed in 1895, and when hostilities ceased, served as governor of the province of Santa Clara during the first American intervention. Later during a revolution he was imprisoned and narrowly escaped with his life. He was president of Cuba from 1909 to 1913.

Broad Street Once a Canal

Broad street was once a canal. New York city was taken by the English in 1624, and their first map, called "The Duke's Plan," after James, duke of York, the brother of King Charles II, to whom his royal brother most kindly presented the city, and who changed the name from New Amsterdam to New York in his honor, shows little change from that of 1624, according to the Mercantile association. In the year 1652 the English filled in the old canal and made the present Broad street by dragging down the red sand from the higher ground along Broadway and Wall street.

BILLY WHISKER

"Say, Sam, that is too nice a looking dog to put up into chop," said one Mexican as he approached Billy Jr. "I may keep him and turn him loose with our goats on the range. Come here Mr. Billy and I will take the lassie off your neck!" He walked up to Billy and slipped the lassie off, giving his whiskers a parting pull. That settled it. Billy's docility disappeared in a minute and before the cowboy had taken a step he felt something sticking into him as if he had sat down on two darning needles and these needles were pushing farther and farther into him and urging him along at a fast trot until he felt a sudden boost and he found himself sitting on top of a coral wall, while the black goat landed on the other side followed by a stubby tailed yellow dog and both disappeared down a deep ravine and were lost sight of, and what is more, no one followed them or tried to bring them back.

As soon as Billy and Stubby were pure they were not being followed they stopped to rest and to form new plans.

"Stubby, what in the world are you carrying in your mouth?" Dropping it so he could answer.

DOG KOKO'S KOLUM

THE BETTER THINGS
 It is better to lose with a conscience clean
 Than to win by a trick unclean;
 It is better to fail and to know you've been,
 Than to claim the prize of a far-off goal
 And the cheers of the standers by,
 And to know down deep in your inmost soul
 A cheat you must live and die.

Who wins by trick may take the prize,
 And at first he may think it sweet,
 But many a day in the future lies
 When he'll wish he had not met defeat.
 For the man who lost shall be glad at heart
 And walk with his head up high,
 While his conqueror knows he must play the part
 Of a cheat and a living lie.

The prize seems fair when the fight is on,
 But sure it is truly won
 You will hate the thing when the clouds are gone,
 For it stands for a false deed done,
 And it's better you never should reach your goal
 Than ever succumb to lay
 At the price of knowing down in your soul
 That your glory is all a lie.

New - York - Day - By - Day

BY G. C. MONTGOMERY

NEW YORK, JULY 17.—It was my good fortune one day recently to explore the Spanish colony in Manhattan with Elson Hauer, the Spanish novelist, and a group of other writers. The compensation for living in New York is its sudden surprises. One may turn the corner and find an alien world in the backyard.

New York's Spain is on Christopher Street. Cadiz and Barcelona are reproduced—the great seafaring towns of the Iberian Peninsula. There are Spanish tanks and stores, Spanish jewelry, barber shops, tailors, Spanish cafes and billiard rooms.

The signs of the district give a distinct foreign flavor. "Pasada Latina" one reads, or "Sastre de Espanola." Through a curtained shop window it is possible to have a glimpse of Old

Airing Her Knowledge
 Mrs. Newswoman went to the grocery store to do her morning marketing. And she was determined that the grocer should not take advantage of her youth and inexperience.

"These eggs are dreadfully small," she criticized.
 "I know it," he answered. "But that's the kind the farmer brings me. They are just fresh from the country this morning."

"Yes," said the wife, "and that's the trouble with those farmers. They are so anxious to get their eggs sold that they take them off the nest too soon!"

Oh, Dear!
 "When will this telegram be delivered?"
 "About two o'clock," answered the operator.

"Yes; but what day?"
Going Him One Better
 An old colored man was burning dead grass and when a "wise guy" stepped and said "You're foolish to do that, Uncle Eb, it will make the meadow as black as you are."

"Don't worry 'bout dat, uh," responded Uncle Eb. "Dat grass will grow out an' be as green as you is."

There's a Reason
 A man in a western town was hurt in a railroad accident, and after being confined to his home for several weeks he appeared on the street, walking with the aid of crutches.

"Hello, old fellow," greeted an acquaintance, rushing up to shake his hand. "I am certainly glad to see you around again."

"Thanks," responded the injured one. "I am glad to be around again."

"I see you are hanging fast to your crutches," observed the acquaintance. "Can't you do without them?"
 "My doctor says I can," answered the injured party, "but my lawyer says I can't."

What She Thought Was The Matter
 A young fellow who was the crack sprinter of his town—somewhere in the south—was unfortunate enough to have a very dilatory landlady.

One evening, when he was out for a practice run in his rather nifty and abbreviated track costume, he chanced to dash past the house of that ducky lady, who at the time was a couple of weeks in arrears with his washing.

He had scarcely reached home again when the bell rang furiously and an excited voice was wafted in from the porch.

"Foh de Lawd's sake, won't you all tell Marse Eb please not to go out no more till I kin git his clothes round to him!"

A Good Intention
 The talk in the smoking room of a well known club turned on the present epidemic of burglaries. "Some time ago," said one of the members, "I tried up in my hall an electric horn—look it from an old car of mine, as a matter of fact—and ran the connecting cord up to my bedside. My wife woke up one night to say that she could hear burglars down stairs. I listened. Sure enough they were there. I pressed the button of the electric horn. Instantly there walked through the house the house cry given out by the horn."

The member paused for a moment, and a smile broke over his face. "I never heard the burglars get in," he said; "but a man who'd been deaf since birth could have heard them making their getaway."

Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Bud talk recently
 "Spendin' Sunday at home, Seaboard Martin' druz cot born in a box car. He'd be played second alto in a recital band."

ALLIES THREATEN TO DRIVE THE TURKS OUT OF EUROPE

TURKEY MUST SIGN TREATY

LONDON, July 17.—(By the Associated Press)—A threat to drive the Turk from Europe, "once and for all," is contained in the allied reply to the Turkish ultimatum to the peace treaty, made public here today. Such action might follow Turkey's refusal to sign the treaty or her failure to give it effect, the reply states.

"LIBERAL PARTY" IS LAUNCHED

CHICAGO, July 17.—The Liberal Party, another political movement, was launched today by former members of the committee of forty-eight who lobbied from that organization.

Judge Arthur G. Wray, mayor of Cook, Neb., and Allen McCarty, leader of the party, were the first to speak at the forty-eight convention, held at the new party.

The convention was confined to those persons from fifty to sixty in number who signed its call and all other foreigners were excluded from the hall.

Lester Barlow, leader of the World War Veterans, attempted to make an address but was invited to leave. He threatened to call another convention.

McCarthy announced that the principal purpose of the gathering was to oppose any attempt to nominate Senator Robert La Follette for president and Wm. J. Bryan for vice president. It is probable that no presidential ticket will be named by the Liberals.

FOUR QUAKE SHOCKS IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 17.—Four earthquake shocks of varying intensity jolted the total of yesterday's seismic disturbances here, although the last one came after 6 o'clock the city had resumed practically its normal aspects before bed-time. The theaters attracted their usual crowds, the streets were filled with pedestrians and vehicles and there appeared few surface indications of any remaining nervousness.

The physical marks left by the tremors, while many, were relatively slight. Some chimneys were shaken down, much plaster was jarred loose, and some ornaments were broken, a few small fires occurred, one where a barrel with traffic and there were minor injuries such as shortened fingers and lacerated water mains.

As far as could be learned, no one was injured by the quake itself, but it caused in its trail some scores of deaths, due to falling objects and down on the heads of pedestrians, to lands occurring in stores and public places where customers were alike sought to hasten to safety and to attacks of hysteria and nervousness which filled every city hospital and taxed the facilities of the city first aid station. No accurate estimate of either money, damage or physical injuries will ever be made, the authorities believed, because of scores of minor hurts and losses which will go unreported.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 17.—An advance of 5 points in Crude oil, overnight announcement of another stock dividend equal to 14.28 percent was the sole feature of interest at the opening of today's short session of the stock exchange. Other prominent issues were fractionally higher, further short covering being induced by the earlier time of the money market in yesterday's final dealings. Equipments, oils, and motors benefited especially by the covering movement. Crude oil lost almost half its rise within the first half hour on realizing sales.

Weather

OHIO: Partly cloudy tonight; warmer in northeast portion. Sunday local thundershowers.

ALLIES TO AID GERMANY IN FLOATING HER LOANS

SPA, July 17.—Allied governments will take appropriate measures to assist Germany in floating loans intended to meet her internal requirements and to assist her in the prompt discharge of her debt to the allies, according to the agreement signed here today by representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and Portugal, settling problems relative to reparations. The distribution of indemnities received from Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria was also provided for in the agreement.

Belgium is given priority in the payment of $2,500,000,000 gold francs, and the agreement enumerates the securities for such priority. The allies also arranged for a method of valuing the ships surrendered by Germany and her allies under the various treaties, as well as the allocation of these vessels. Surrendered warships, docks and other war materials were also dealt with by the entrants nations delegates.

One of the articles of the agreement fixing the cost of the occupation armies on a uniform basis was not concluded, it being desired to discuss this matter with the United States before final adjustment of the problem.

Examiner Scores Kent Normal School

COLUMBUS, O., July 17.—Illegal expenditures of funds, loose management of administration affairs and lack of co-operation among members of the institution is charged in a report filed against the Kent state normal school after an extensive examination by State Examiner John A. Mills. The report, made public by State Auditor, A. V. Donahay, recommends a reorganization of the institution.

Financial affairs of the school are those most prominent in the report. It is charged that $18,000, the salary of the dean of the school, has been illegally expended following the official establishment of that position; that $1,800 had been expended illegally from the students fund and $8,500 from the dormitory fund.

President J. E. McGilvery of the school in answer to the charge of the expenditure of $6,000, supposedly the salary of the dean, stated that the money had been expended with the full knowledge of the trustees. Among a number of charges relative to the mismanagement of the school and its administrative affairs, the examiner's report declared that without authority the name of the institution had been changed from "Kent State Normal School" to "Kent State Normal College" by the trustees.

Faculty members and the president are also charged with failure to cooperate in the report.

GERMANS SIGN COAL PROTOCOL

HUGE AUTO THEFT PLOT IS BARED

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Whole sale thefts of automobiles in which were involved Washington dealers and chauffeurs and a gang of New York thieves has been brought to light, according to the police, by the Washington authorities working in cooperation with New York detectives. Within the last few days Washington detectives have seized bills of sale, which they said show that at least 1500 automobiles reported in New York as stolen, have been sent to Washington dealers recently. Last night 27 of these alleged stolen cars had been rounded up and the police stated they had just begun work.

Local police also were authority for the statement that Morris Elias, operating the Lincoln Auto Exchange in Newark, N. J., had been arrested and was being held under bond pending an investigation into his alleged connection with the traffic.

CHINESE STAGE BATTLE

PEKING, July 16.—(BY WIRELESS TO TIEN TSIN).—(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS).—Fighting between troops of the rival factions occurred today at Kwanhsun, 30 miles south of Peking. Numbers of wounded are arriving here. The city itself is quiet, but wire and rail communication with Tien Tsun has been interrupted.

The mediators sent out in an effort to reconcile the contending parties have returned to Peking, their mission having failed.

SECOND CUP RACE TODAY

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 17.—In today there will be three, each of ten miles. The addition of another turn, the point is expected to add interest. The race developed into a drifting match such as continued Thursday until a broken halfyard and gaff put the American defender Resolute out of the running.

Shamrock IV, with two more victories to win, if she is to lift the America's cup, and Resolute, with a duty of taking three races, both swung at their moorings, trim and fit.

WARNS LAWLESSNESS MUST STOP IN COAL FIELDS

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., July 17.—Mingo county officers were today notified by Governor John J. Cornwell that lawlessness in the Mingo county coal field must cease, and with this end in view a detachment of 50 mounted men of the state police had been ordered into the district where a strike of miners has been in progress for several weeks.

This information was contained in letters received by Judge James Dameron of the circuit court and Sheriff Blankenship, both of whom have been in close touch with the situation since ten men were killed in a fight at Matewan May 19, and a number of miners have been attacked by parties hidden in the woods along Tug river. The latest fatality in the region occurred near Fairview on Wednesday when U. H. Hatfield, a Mingo county deputy sheriff, was shot from ambush.

Plan Big Demonstration In Honor Of Governor Cox

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Friends and supporters of Governor Cox of Ohio, had arranged for a big demonstration in honor of the Democratic nominee for the presidency upon the arrival here this afternoon for his conference tomorrow morning with President Wilson at the White House. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for the vice presidency, will head the welcoming delegation.

Although Governor Cox had declined to be present, he was expected to be at the home of Judge T. T. Ansberry, whose guest he will be, there in charge of the arrangements, decided to request that he hold a brief informal reception at the station. While the conference with the president was the only fixed engagement the governor had, Judge Ansberry, himself a former Ohio congressman, will keep open house for his guest and plans were made for an almost continuous round of informal conferences, with party leaders, until he leaves tomorrow afternoon for Columbus.

The conference with President Wilson tomorrow in which Mr. Roosevelt will participate, will be held on the south porch of the White House, weather permitting. During his conference the president has spent much of his time there.

SPA, BELGIUM, July 17.—The German representatives signed the coal protocol drawn up by the allies' representatives at 8:15 o'clock last night, thereby settling one of the most difficult questions which has come up in the present discussions. Signatures were affixed to the documents after a four-hour session, one hour of which was spent by the Germans in a cabinet consultation in an adjoining room.

There was a conflict over introduction in the protocol of the measure of occupation of additional German territories after October 15th next, if German coal deliveries were not up to the stipulated quantity—six million tons—by that date. The allies decided to drop this clause of the protocol before the signature was made.

Ford Buys Coal Mines In Kentucky

LYNCHBURG, VA., July 17.—The Banner Fork Coal Corporation in Harrison county, Kentucky, was purchased today by the Ford Motor Company, of Detroit, for $1,500,000. The payment of $1,000,000 in cash and $500,000 in notes was made through a local bank.

DISCREDITING THEIR OWN

WE are much entertained by an editorial in a current issue of the Country Gentleman, showing that all live publications have about the same existence.

The Country Gentleman is the oldest and the best agricultural weekly in the country. It is conducted on an unusually high plane, employing the staff of experts in various lines of farming, without superiors in the country. Its contents are exceedingly varied, the illustrations are high class and in every respect the paper is admirable and entertaining, not only to those in whose interests it is published, but to acquire breadth of information.

But the publication has many subscribers, who are not pleased with it and many class contemporaries, who are sorely dissatisfied with it. Some complain because it is for sale on trains and city news stands and therefore it is read by town people, others find fault with it because its stories by the best authors for grown-ups and children and some are sure it is unfit for farmers because it has such fine pictures and is printed on excellent paper.

Now these are all queer objections, every one being a protest against a superior quality, but they run true to the quicks and children of human nature, and are the discouragements, to an extent, the stumbling block, that every paper meets in its efforts to produce the best possible. They but illustrate the crooked conceptions some natures have of their own fortunes and the character of the pursuit in which they are engaged.

Farming is the great basic industry of the country, the foundation upon the breadth of which every other industry rests its prosperity. Not only is it thus imposing, essential, but it is dignified and honorable in character. As much industry and brains are required to carry it on to the great success as any other business demands. There are thousands of as fine farm homes, as handsomely and comfortably appointed, with as cultured occupants, as are to be found in the cities. There is no reason whatever to complain of a class journal that aims to put the best foot of farming forward and to show the royal road which all in the occupation may travel, if they will. To vex it and denounce it shows but the narrowness and crudeness that ignorant people just at as being the natural condition of rural life.

Easiest thing in the world to get your name in the papers nowadays. All you have to do is to write one of the candidates telling him you have always voted the opposition, but believing in America, liberty and the freedom of the nations you are going to support him. Your letter will be promptly turned over to the eager reporters and properly exploited.

The 48-ers, "the plutocratic philanthropists," have exhibited at Chicago the fallacy of trying to mix oil and water. They sought to combine the silk shirt and the kid glove with the overalls of labor in its most violent form, together with every other lun and got evenly chewed up in the operation.

The Peerless brought of the choicest of her exceedingly limited stock of lovely days and spread it out for the edification of her guests and as testimonial to a memorable event for her future.

It can't be said the denizens of the Peerless don't know a good thing when they see it, neither are they loath to take advantage of it when it is free. The crowd on the dam excursion was as large as it was welcome.

Over $500,000,000 in bonds were sold on the New York market, Wednesday. Not an excessive number, according as is the vent, but still sufficient to show why they are not yet at par. The tendency for the day was slightly upward.

The state treasury has $83,000,000 on hand. Unhappily it is nearly all held in special funds and there is no more than enough to provide against running expenses.

Unhappily the plutocratic philanthropists of the 48-ers went to Chicago to organize one party out of the many discordant elements assembled there. Again they found themselves rejected as leaders. The labor radicals beat them to it and took away most of their following besides. So back home they go a sadder, but scarce to be hoped, a wiser lot.

But LaFollette is perfectly willing to run for president, but he can't find any group with courage enough to nominate him.

The Portsmouth steel mills are going to spend a million dollars in the construction of river terminals. That's fine. It will help the Ohio come into her own.

The total assessment valuation in the state will show an increase of half a billion for the year. Does that mean a decrease in the tax rate? No, foolish one, it means an increase. In taxation, as illustrated in Ohio, the more you've got the more you've got to pay in both amount and rate, every year and thence on eternally.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

LINDSEY ON THE JOB

My first assignment was to go down and get some sketches of the crowds bathing at Coney Island. May I say that no more pleasant job could have been selected for me on a mid-July day!

Filled with delight I blew out of Dean's office and fled me to the very beach that Jack and I had had such a jolly time on a few days before—and yet it was not a century before!

Just for luck I sketched some of the funny couples on the beach going down. It gave me something to do, and helped to while away the time.

Once arrived at the beach, I wandered about wondering just which people to sketch, for they were all so interesting and amusing.

I nearly died when I came across Mr. and Mrs. Poe-Wee (dwarfs) from some city show, or, after gawking at them for a long while, I noticed the old lady over the bounding waves and Jack and I had so hilariously sampled. They looked so tiny and were so jolly as they were tossed this way and that, and the crowd enjoyed it so.

Quick as a wink I caught them at their flattest, to my great joy, and then strolled on to see what else there was to see.

I felt like an old hand at the game, and yet very new to it. It was wonderful to be really, truly, gawking about, unchaperoned, untroubled, and above all, unknown. There is no more inspiring feeling than that which comes from being able to lose oneself, totally. Only artists and dreamers get this, I fear. To be able to lose one's identity—Nona de Chant! What bliss!

I roamed, thus, for two hours, and by that time had a fair selection of peppy cartoons for Mr. Dean to pick and choose from. And I was tired! Not so as you could notice it.

I made a great discovery today—one does not get tired from anything so quickly as from ennui! Doing the work that one loves does not tire one, not really. While being bored wears one in mind, body and estate.

It got fierce and hot during the afternoon, and I finally went in and had some food, and a long, cold drink. Then I sat back, well pleased with my work and my day and listened to the music and watched the crowds, dancing and peeping.

It is such a simple, sweetly, good-natured crowd, this one at Coney Island. It manages to enjoy so much fun out of so little. One can learn much great lessons of life by just coming here and being simple too—every once in a while. It will keep one young and wholesome.

By six o'clock I was back in the office and submitting my drawings to Mr. Dean. He was highly pleased and picked out the best for next day's Evening Leader to run.

Then he showed me my scappy selections in The Leader of the moment, and I nearly burst with pride at sight of my first artistic appearance in any paper, signed and all that. Tears came to my eyes, but I don't think Mr. Dean saw them. Don't care if he did; only an editor would understand a new girl artist or girl writer's tears at sight of her first work in art or literature, that is to say, of course! Gee, in the language of the loose, ain't it grand jest to be alive—and doing!

Dropping it so he could answer, Billy replied, "A nice, large piece of beef."

"Beef? Where did you get any beef, I should like to know?"

"Well, you see I can't live on grass and roots as you can and as I was pretty hungry, I took my chance of getting stuck and stole this piece as we ran by the smoke house. Didn't you notice the little house in the dump of bushes near the side of the corral wall?"

"No, I didn't see it, or know that you were hiding me until just now, for you did not bark and I expected I would have to wait a while for you to lead me, but now I see that you had your mouth so full you could not bark. You go ahead and make a good supper of your steak and I will make mine of those tender, green beans."

As they talked of their future, Billy and Stubby were getting tired of Mexico as it had too much sand, mud and other sticky places and not enough water and grass.

"Now, I say, we get out of it as soon as we can, but how are we going to do that is a puzzle to me for it seems to me the further we travel south from California the hotter it gets and I say instead of traveling south as we have been doing that we change our course and keep to the west. In that way we will come to the Pacific coast."

"When we get there we can follow the shore until we come to some town or city where we can take an ocean steamer and be carried away anywhere. Who cares where? Just so that we get away from this hot, dusty country. Besides, I am very anxious for another ocean voyage and always have been since Day and I came from Constantinople."

"The two little dreamed what would happen to them next."

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY G. O. MENTRE

NEW YORK, JULY 17.—It was my good fortune one day recently to explore the Spanish colony in Manhattan with Hueso Hueso, the Spanish novelist, and a group of other writers. The compensation for living in New York is its sudden surprises. One may turn the corner and find an alien world in the backyard.

New York's Spain is on Christopher Street. Cadiz and Barcelona are reproduced—the great seafaring towns of the Iberian Peninsula. There are Spanish banks and stores, Spanish jewelers, better shops, tailors, Spanish cafes and billiard rooms.

The signs of the district give a distinct foreign tang. "Pasada Latina" one reads, or "Barcelonita Espanola." Through a curtained shop window it is possible to have a glimpse of Old World products. There is the straight backed leather chairs of Spain that are a torture to those used to reclining comfortably.

A short distance below the foot of Christopher Street are the docks. There are trim boats that run down the Chatham coast. Swagging sailors with jet black hair and aquiline features abound in this neighborhood. About the only thing they dislike about America is their inability to get wine. In this connection I saw a sign on the window of a former saloon. It read: "Uno California Grape Juice." Below it was another announcement that the store sold raisins.

In the evening the Spanish quarter begins to pulsate with life. The pretty señoritas are out on the stoops, black eyed, olive complexioned and lovely. "The dishes cluster in the little cafes and the billiard balls click merrily in the Pasada Latina.

After the dinner the officers come out to drink their coffee along the sidewalk and eat yellow, twisted Spanish pastries. Many of the girls wear heavy ear rings and jewelry is a common luxury. I noticed five jewelry shops in one block. The population is composed of diverse races of the Spanish world—Catalans, Castilians, Chilians, Argentines. They are united by that strong bond between people of common language on an alien shore.

At the dancing places these days they have Hispanic young women who watch from the ring-side tables any luxury in good manners. If a young man and his girl are dancing cheek to cheek he gets their eye and shakes his head in disapproval. If they do not stop he asks them to leave the floor. Now and then those who are brazenly bold steal kisses from their fair partners. There is no intolerance for them. They must live up their table and the cover charge is refunded. Holding hands is also banned. The pink benches are also watched by policemen for spousers. The only place spooning is permitted in New York is on the Fifth Avenue buses. There love's young dream rolls along without harsh interruptions.

There are many ways to beat the high cost of living in this town. One way is seen in the big trucks going home around five o'clock. They are filled with workers on their way home, glass in hand, to propose a toast. "My wife never," he said in deep measured tones, "think any more of this stuff."

He paused, and there was a horrible silence for several seconds—"then is good for us?"

What He Wanted: Some time since a business man advertised for an office boy, and it wasn't long before an ambitious youngster of the red-headed type was applying for the place. Immediately the examination began.

"Say, mister," finally remarked the boss, after several minutes of close questioning, "what kind of a boy do you want, anyhow?"

"I want a nice, quiet boy," answered the man, "who doesn't smoke, use bad language, whistle around the office, play tricks, get into mischief—"

"The glad of it," declared Mr. Chuglies, "if the motor were made agreeable they'd proved immediately to change perfunctory prices."

At a very crowded dinner in London a man with a naturally solemn face arose, glass in hand, to propose a toast. "My wife never," he said in deep measured tones, "think any more of this stuff."

He paused, and there was a horrible silence for several seconds—"then is good for us?"

"You don't want a boy, mister," broke in the youngster, starting for the door. "What you want is a girl."

A Good Invention: The talk in the smoking room of a well known club turned on the present epidemic of burglaries. "Some time ago," said one of the members, "I lived up in my hall an electric horn—" hook it from an old car of mine, as a matter of fact—and ran the connecting cord up to my bedside. My wife woke up one night to say that she could hear burglars down stairs. I listened. Sure enough they were there. I pressed the button of the electric horn. Instantly they waited through the house the house cry given out by the horn."

The member paused for a moment, and a smile broke over his face. "I never heard the burglars get in," he said; "but a man would have heard them making their getaway."

Mr. and Mrs. Lofe had talk some spending Sunday at home. Senator Martin was not born in a log cabin, but he played second alto in a country band.
